

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the Abstract with the following amended version:

The present invention relates to truncated EGF receptor molecules that exhibit increased binding affinities for EGFR ligands such as EGF and TGF- α . ~~TNF1~~. The present invention also relates to methods of screening for EGF receptor ligands and methods of treatment which involve the use of these molecules.